

Carried Notes on F.B.I. Report on Insistence of Her Boss, Says Coplon

Declares Foley Gave Her "Decoy" Paper as She Was to Leave For New York
Long-hand Notes
Will Return Monday to Stand to Finish Her Denial

Washington, June 18 (AP)—Judith Coplon told the jury trying her on espionage charges yesterday that her Justice Department boss insisted she take notes from an F.B.I. "decoy" memorandum which were found in her purse when she was arrested.

When the trial resumes Monday for its ninth week, Miss Coplon will return to the witness stand to finish her denial that she ever engaged in espionage activity.

She testified yesterday that William E. Foley, chief of the Justice Department's foreign agents registration and internal security sections, gave her the "decoy" paper the morning of March 4 as she was about to leave for New York.

"He said it was 'hot and interesting' and pointed to Needleman's name," she said. "He told me he wanted me to make notes of the highlights in connection with the possible prosecution of Amtorg."

(The memorandum said Isidore G. Needleman, general counsel of Amtorg, Soviet trading agency, and another high-placed Amtorg official had become F.B.I. informants. Government witnesses have called this deliberately false and designed to catch Miss Coplon's eye.)

Acting at Foley's direction, Miss Coplon said, she wrote out long-hand notes from the memorandum. She said he returned to her office later and asked if she had done this.

When Foley told her he wanted to work on it over the week-end, Miss Coplon testified, she remained in his office that she was going to New York that day.

She quoted him as saying he wanted her to take the notes with her. Foley also suggested, she related, that she put the notes in a wrapper. When he saw the tiny package she made he said "fine," she testified.

Foley, when he appeared as a government witness, said that he showed the "decoy" to Miss Coplon and that it was "hot and interesting." He said he directed her to give it to an attorney working on the Amtorg case when she had finished with it.

Testimony in the trial has brought out that the Justice Department long has considered prosecuting Amtorg for failure to register as a foreign agent. No action has been started, Amtorg claiming that it is exempt from registering on the ground its activities are purely commercial—not propaganda or espionage.

Miss Coplon, 28, testified that she now believes a "top secret" F.B.I. report on Soviet spying in this country "also was a decoy of some sort."

A typewritten note found in the defendant's purse said: "I have not been able (and don't think I will) to get the top secret F.B.I. report which I described to Michael on Soviet and Communist intelligence activities in the U. S."

Defense Attorney Archibald Palmer asked her whether this was written in connection with a book she was writing in "a serio-comic vein."

"That's what it was about," she replied.

Following her arrest, Miss Coplon testified, one woman employee of the F.B.I. held her while an-

Subversives Board of Regents to Consider Its List of Subversives

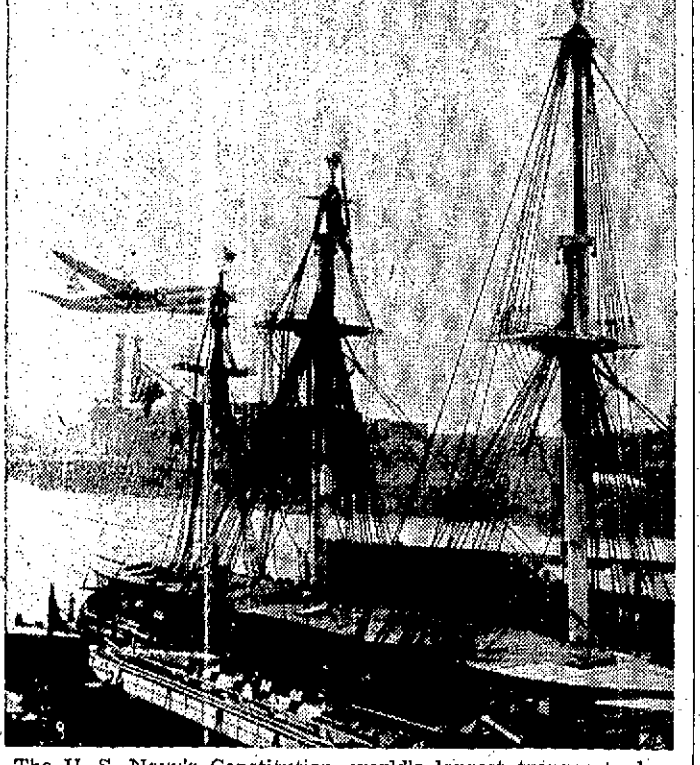

Albany, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—The Board of Regents will meet July 13 to consider what organizations it will list as subversive. No public school jobs will be open to members of the organizations.

Under a law passed by the 1949 Legislature, the board must maintain a list of organizations it considers subversive. The law goes into effect July 1.

An Education Department spokesman said yesterday a special committee of four Regents that has been studying the law since May 3 had come to no conclusions yet about the list.

The committee has been looking over organizations classified as "definitely subversive" by the

Held in Slaying Of Her Sister's Deserted Lover

Albany, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—A young mother known back home as a crack shot was held today in the slaying of her sister's deserted lover.

District Attorney Julian B. Erway said Mrs. Donna H. Robinson, 27, of Ilion grabbed the sister yesterday in a driveway next to Child's Hospital. Mrs. Robinson emptied her revolver at him, Erway said.

She was held without charge overnight for appearance in police court today.

The sister, Miss Ruth Hathaway, 26, was released in her own custody as a material witness.

Mrs. Robinson, a school teacher's wife who is expecting a third child, and her sister drove here yesterday from Morrisville, in central New York, to visit their mother in the hospital. With them were Mrs. Robinson's daughters, Susan, four, and Deedee, one. The family lives in Otego but had been staying in Morrisville because, they told police, Bard had threatened to harm them.

The district attorney said Mrs. Robinson gave this version of the shooting.

Erway grabbed Miss Hathaway and tried to choke her as she walked from the automobile to the hospital, which is near the state capitol.

Mrs. Robinson was walking behind, carrying Deedee. She put the child down and tried to halt the struggle. Bard shoved the child.

Central Hudson Contracts For Natural Gas Supply

One more step toward bringing natural gas to its franchise territory was taken Thursday by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation when it signed an agreement with the Home Gas Company, a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas System, providing that Home Gas will supply Central Hudson with its natural gas requirements for its gas transmission system. Late in July, both companies will apply to the Federal Power Commission in Washington for approval of their agreement and for approval of the construction work necessary to put it into effect. If the Federal Power Commission permits, Central Hudson hopes to bring natural gas to its customers by the end of the year 1950.

Central Hudson will obtain its natural gas supply from a gas transmission line to be built by the Home Gas Company between Port Jervis and Orangeburg. This line, carrying natural gas from West Virginia and Texas, will be tapped at a point approximately 24 miles from Newburgh. From this point Central Hudson will build a transmission line to carry the gas into its own gas transmission system.

Central Hudson has already ordered pipe and other new materials for the project and is now making arrangements with three towns to obtain gas transmission franchises.

To change its equipment for natural gas use will require Central Hudson to put an additional $1,850,000 into its gas business for new transmission lines and for adapting generating equipment for the manufacture of gas with the same heat content as natural gas. The converted equipment will be used during periods of extremely cold weather and for standby emergency purposes. The company will spend an additional $600,000 in converting the gas appliances of its customers for natural gas use.

Central Hudson officials predicted that in spite of change-over costs, natural gas will mean, eventually, a greater return on the company's gas business as well as a reduction in the price of gas for customers.

School Books Request Not a Plan to Censor

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, June 18 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee, formally assured the nation's educators today it doesn't intend to "censor textbooks" or interfere with academic freedom.

The assurances, distributed by letter, were intended to quiet some of the furor that broke out among schools and colleges—and within the committee itself—over a request for lists of textbooks.

All the committee is trying to do, the letter said, is check up on "serious allegations" made about textbooks by the National Sons of the American Revolution. These allegations intimated that Communist propaganda has been injected into some books.

The committee started the flurry by writing to various state and city boards of education and to something over 70 colleges and universities, picked at random, asking for:

"A list of textbooks and a supplementary reading, together with authors, which are being used by their institution in the field of sociology, geography, economics, government, philosophy, history, political science and American literature."

There were roars from educational organizations and a number of college presidents. Some members of the committee were disturbed. So a follow-up letter went out over Chairman Wood's signature. It wound up this way:

"The foregoing request of the committee should not be construed as having the slightest unfavorable reflection or criticism upon your school or any person connected therewith."

It noted that some school officials had said it would be impossible to list thousands of books in use in the fields the committee named.

The committee said if too much work was involved, "we will gladly amend the initial letter" to omit the request for supplemental material, and ask only for the title and author of the "principal textbooks used in the courses."

As a matter of fact, the committee doesn't desire to interfere in any manner with academic freedom, nor does it intend to censor textbooks, the second letter said.

"It is of no concern to the committee if the Communist manifesto or any other book or document containing the tenets of Communism is being studied for comparative purposes in our educational institutions."

The letter said the House group does not accept the petition from the Sons of the American Revolution—"at face value," but is merely trying to find out how much work would be needed to prove or disprove the allegations.

Martin in Sharp Issue With Truman

Washington, June 18 (AP)—President Truman's statement that real estate lobbyists have launched a "deliberate campaign of misrepresentation" against housing legislation drew a sharp denial today from Rep. Martin (R-Mass.).

The President said late yesterday in a letter to Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) that he has been "shocked in recent days at the extraordinary propaganda campaign that has been unleashed" against a Senate-passed public housing bill.

The campaign, Mr. Truman declared, "consistently distorts the facts of the housing situation in this country."

Martin, the House Republican leader, told a newsman:

"This is a surprise to me. The only lobby that has contacted me is the lobby trying to put over the bill."

Martin declared that opposition to the measure has come from people concerned over government spending—not real estate lobbyists.

The President's strongly-worded letter said that "a little group of ruthless men" is responsible for the campaign to defeat the bill.

He asked Congress to "be aware of the false and misleading nature of this propaganda."

House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass.) promptly commented: "The President is absolutely right. I hope his statement will have the effect of driving this nefarious lobby out of Washington."

But Martin declared:

"The people have come to realize that if we are going to keep our finances in shape we've got to quit spending. Inasmuch as not one house would be built in 18 months under this program it seems to me this is one big money bill that could be put aside."

House debate on the bill will begin Wednesday. It calls for a vast program of slum clearance, low-rent public housing and farm housing aid.

Estimates of the federal money involved, in subsidies and loans, have varied widely.

Alger Hiss Will Be Own Witness On Perjury Charge

Defense Lawyers on Monday Will Begin Arguments; Line Not Indicated

New York, June 18 (AP)—Defense lawyers Monday will begin their court battle to try to prove Alger Hiss did not lie when he swore he never handed out government secrets to a prewar courier for Soviet spies.

Apart from attacks on the credibility of Hiss' chief accuser, Whitaker Chambers, the defense has not indicated what its line of arguments will be.

However, it is expected that the lanky, Harvard-educated Hiss, one-time high State Department official, will be his own star witness.

He is charged with perjury. The government claims he lied to a grand jury when he said he did not supply confidential information to Chambers, confessed ex-Communist spy courier.

Lloyd Paul Stryker, top defense counsel, confirmed that Hiss will take the stand to tell his side of the story, probably in the latter part of next week.

The government rested its case yesterday, after 14 trial days, and (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3)

Held on Charge of First Degree Murder

Hudson, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—Stevens Williams, 58, was under arrest today on a charge of first degree murder in the death of an elderly man whose charred body was found in a fire-damaged apartment in nearby Anramdale.

District Attorney Thomas Kennedy of Columbia county said Williams was to be arraigned later today in the death of Alonzo Cook, Jr., 86, a roomer at the Williams home.

Kennedy said Williams clubbed Cook to death yesterday, set fire to the body and then set three separate fires in the apartment in an effort to make the alleged slaying appear accidental.

The district attorney said that Williams owed Cook about $30,000 and that Cook had been pressing him for it.

Cook's body was found on his bedroom floor on the second floor of the Williams home.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Edna Oakley, a tenant in the Williams house, and was extinguished by the Copake Fire Department before it caused extensive damage.

Rosendale Priest Leaves

Announcement was made today by the Office of the Chancery of the New York Archdiocese that the Rev. John F. Brennan of St. Peter's Rectory, Manhattan, had been assigned to St. Emer's, Manhattan.

The Rev. Daniel F. Fogarty, newly-ordained priest, has been assigned to St. Peter's parish in Rosendale.

Predicts Senate Test

Washington, June 18 (AP)—Democratic Leader Lucas (D-Ill.) today predicted a Senate test Monday on the hot issue of what to do about strikes imperiling the national welfare. Lucas said he expects voting to start then on the five different plans for handling such strikes. He said things will "move pretty rapidly" once the balloting begins.

Few Tantalizing Sprinkles Today In New York State

Albany, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—A few tantalizing sprinkles were all the weatherman had to offer today for hot and dry New York state.

And it was so dry that sugar maple leaves were falling fast in Wyoming county. Residents were raking them up to eliminate a fire hazard.

The number of deaths attributed to the heat rose to four. In addition, there have been 11 drownings during the week-long heat wave.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures would rise again today to the high eighties and low nineties.

Eleven new fires swept woodlands in the Adirondacks yesterday, raising to 52 the total since last Saturday. All were controlled, the Conservation Department said.

The department appealed to the public not to wander off the roads and trails of the state's forests when on outings, because of the difficulty in fighting fires deep in the woods.

The prolonged drought also brought new troubles. Street light service was curtailed at Gouverneur and operations were cut at International T.A.C.L. Company's Mill No. 6 there. The Oswegatchie river was too low to keep the power up.

Pupils at the Cato-Meridian central school in Cayuga county were sent home at noon yesterday, because of the water shortage.

About half of Erie county's hay and strawberry crops has been lost, Ross R. Haynor, assistant agricultural agent, reported.

Thousands Isolated In Potomac Floods

Petersburg, Va., June 18 (AP)—Flash floods raging in the Potomac river valley of West Virginia gave signs of subsiding today but two towns still were blocked and further evacuations were planned.

The crest of the flood, which struck last night after torrential rains, rolled on northeast towards Romney, W. Va., and Cumberland, Md.

Police said there were "unconfirmed reports" that eight to ten persons were missing in the Petersburg-Moorefield, W. Va. area. Communication was difficult, however, and police were attempting to verify the reports.

They were unable to confirm a report that at least five persons were lost in the Moorefield area.

Downpours yesterday drove the Potomac river's north and south branches out of their banks, isolating entire communities and sweeping away smaller dwellings. Police said there was 4½ inches of rain in 24 hours.

Some 400 persons were moved out of the south side of this town of 1,800 as water cut it off completely. It is located on the Potomac south branch, between the Shenandoah and Allegheny mountains.

Reports Car Stolen

James Tancuso of Milton reported to state police early today that his automobile was stolen at 3:45 a. m. from where it was parked in front of the Milton Diner.

The missing automobile is a 1939 Ford coach with license plates UL 32-44.

Youth Is Injured

Raymond Houghtaling, Jr., 8, of 65 Gage street received slight head injuries when he was struck by an automobile on Gage street near his home 9:20 p. m. Friday, the police reported. The boy was taken to Kingston Hospital where his condition was reported as "good" this morning. The automobile was driven by Victor Osborn of 206 Flatbush avenue, police said.

Financial Assistance Is Pledged Kingston Colonials

Financial assistance for the hard pressed Kingston Colonials was pledged Friday by a 20-man committee of local baseball fans who organized the "Colonial Booster Club" at a momentous two-hour meeting at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

The action was taken after the club president, Ted Laviano, had painted a dire picture of the Colonials' financial status.

Matthew V. Herzog was appointed chairman of the club, while Bob Murray will serve as treasurer.

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, who attended the session, expressed grave concern about the future of organized ball in Kingston and the municipal stadium itself. He urged a re-awakening of baseball interest in the city.

Julie Laviano, Colonial manager who has been under fire and criticism in some quarters, was given a vote of confidence.

(Among those who attended the meeting were Matthew V. Herzog, Ray Garrahan, Louis G. Bruhn,

To Organize an Uptown Business Men's Association

Meeting Will Be Held Monday at 10 A.M. in Basement of the Newberry Store

A meeting to organize an uptown business men's association has been called for Monday at 10 a. m. at the basement of the J. J. Newberry and Company store on Wall street.

All merchants from Wall, John Fair streets, Clinton avenue and Albany avenue from the intersection of Clinton avenue to the intersection of Broadway have been invited to attend.

Officers will be elected and plans made for the re-opening of Wall street and other future events.

The Uptown Business Men's Association of past years disbanded with the organization of the present Chamber of Commerce.

The need for the revival of the regional organization has been felt for some time, a spokesman said today, for certain promotions. The uptown merchants will continue to cooperate "100 per cent" with the Chamber of Commerce, however, he said.

At the present time there are businessmen's associations in the North Front street, central and downtown sections of the city.

Valley Firemen

Fisher of Hudson Falls President; 1950 in Poughkeepsie

Hudson Falls, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—Paul M. Fisher of Hudson Falls took over today as president of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

He was elected yesterday at the final session of the group's annual convention here.

Chosen with him were Percy Van Leuven of Goshen, first vice president, and Francis W. Christal of Schenectady, second vice president. Charles M. Sales of Haverstraw and George J. Sweet of Saugerties were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The association, comprising volunteer fire departments from Warren county south to the New York city line, will hold its 1950 convention in Poughkeepsie.

Warren Smith, Ted Laviano, Nick Kaslich, Ray McAndrew, Alton Waterous, Harry L. Edson, Gordon Fitzgerald, Robert Murray, John Bott, John Bernato, Fred Eisler, Addison Jones and Myron Goldmann.

Specifically, the Booster Club pledged an intensive sale of patron tickets valued at $6 each and the staging of several "night" to stimulate public interest.

Discounting the standing of the club in the Colonial League, the Boosters agreed that securing quick cash was the crucial issue at the moment. The current deficit of the club is so great that unless ready cash is made available in the next week or so, the franchise will collapse.

Ray Garrahan presented the most effective suggestions and urged a more extensive newspaper and radio advertising campaign. He also recommended that Colonial activities be advertised thoroughly at the numerous nearby summer resorts.

WOODSTOCK

Broadway Actress Eagerly Awaits Playhouse Role

Woodstock, June 18 — Ruth Hammond, who will play the title role in "I Remember Mama," is looking forward eagerly to her Woodstock engagement. For the last 10 years, Miss Hammond has been associated, theatrically speaking, with that inimitable, red-haired character, Father Day, as she has been playing his Cousin Cora in both "Life With Father" and most recently, "Life With Mother," marking one of the longest runs ever achieved by an actress.

Miss Hammond's first appearance in Woodstock coincides with her first departure, in a decade, from the art of Cousin Cora.

Agapae Rebekah Holds Installation Service

Woodstock, June 18—Marcelle Holmizer was installed as district deputy president of Ulster District 1, at a regular meeting of Agapae Rebekah Lodge, Bears-ville, Wednesday evening.

The retiring district deputy, President August Schirmer and staff of Queen of the Catskill Mountain Rebekah Lodge, West Saugerties, took charge of the installation ceremonies. Members of the staff included Marguerite Malow, deputy marshal; Florence Pepper, deputy secretary; Anna Elwyn, deputy treasurer; Edna Rowe, deputy chaplain; Marjorie Harder, deputy warden; Claudia Williams, deputy musician; Elizabeth MacDaniel and Anna Mae Ostrander, deputy guardians. The district deputy president was presented with a lovely bouquet of roses and other gifts.

Among the many guests from Saugerties, Kingston, West Saugerties, New York and Marlborough, were District Deputy President Ruty Norton and staff from Ulster District 2 and Florence Gippert, past assembly musician.

The annual fair and supper of Agapae Rebekah Lodge will be held Thursday, August 25.

Evelyn Torres Will Appear in Concert

Woodstock, June 18 — Evelyn Torres, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Henry Torres, of the Hill, a senior student at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music will take part in the concert to be given by the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah, Tuesday, June 21, Temple Emanuel, at 8:30 p. m.

Kiwanians Hear Progress Made in Disease Control

Recent progress in the control of poultry diseases was the subject of a talk by Dr. Clement I. Angstrom, director of the New York State Regional Veterinary Laboratory here, to members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday noon.

The talk was scheduled because of the interest of Kiwanians in the poultry raising project of county 4-H Club youngsters. Chicks were purchased recently by 58 Kiwanis Club members for 4-H members to be raised for competition at the county fair. Dr. Angstrom was presented by William T. Hooley, program chairman for the meeting.

Raw Oil and Turpentine

A nice finish for a knotty pine paneled wall in a basement recreation room can be achieved by several liberal applications of a half-and-half mixture of raw linseed oil and turpentine. One hour after each application wipe off the excess oil on the surface. Repeat the application after 24 hours, and give a third if necessary.

THE DIGHTON

New Paints Feature Fast Drying Time

If four years haven't rolled around since last you had the outside of the house painted, sit back and relax. The National Bureau of Standards in Washington says that if a white house is repainted every other year, the paint will crack. Pleasant information, isn't it? What to do, if the outside looks gray and murky? Wash it, is their recommendation.

So the money which might have gone into the painting of the outside of the house now can be diverted to the interior which doubtless pleases the woman of the house, anyhow.

New colors and new paints are finding their way to postwar markets. Plan your new color scheme carefully, obtaining if possible, the loan of your painter's "color book" so that you can test and try shades of colors one against the other for the rooms which open into each other. There's nothing so dismaying as having walls and woodwork painted and then discovering that it isn't just the color you had in mind!

If you are interested in sloshing a bit of paint about for yourself, you'll find wonderful new "quick" paints at your local counters. There's a new oil-type flat paint which comes in paste form. Not a calcimine, it is thinned with water and has astonishing quick-drying qualities. An entire room can be done in an hour and be quite dry. You can use it over wallpaper, or painted or unpainted plaster, brick or wood. Another advantage of this new paint is that it can be washed with mild soap and water.

This new paint comes in quart and gallon jars in ivory, cream, buff, green, peach, blue, pale yellow, gray and white. And you can have the time of your life mixing any of these until you get the off-color you crave.

Not ready yet, for testing has not been completed, is a super-seal insect control paint containing DDT. Wonderful, when and if we get it, for kitchens, pantries, cellars, storage rooms, bedrooms and clothes closets!

Only thing holding up production at the moment is the fact the manufacturers want to be doubly, triply sure it isn't going to affect household pets.

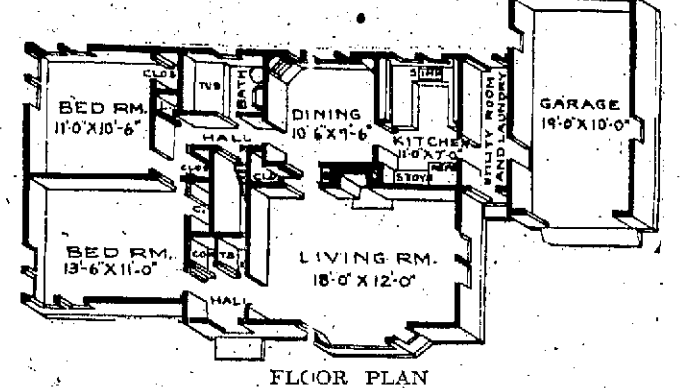

Basement or Attic Shower?

Why not install a shower bath in the basement or the attic? There are many corners where an extra shower bath can be installed and will be a great advantage. It will of course be necessary to have drainage and supply pipes, but these may be installed upon consulting a competent plumber.

Removing Paint. To remove paint spots from glass easily, use a strong washing soda solution. If the paint stains are stubborn, soak them with the solution several times, then scrape with a razor blade.

Use of Glue

To prevent glue cracking when repairing furniture, add sawdust about the texture and fineness of floor to the glue. This sawdust can be obtained at most paint stores.

Size 38'-0" x 25'-0" Cubage: House 17,700 feet. Garage 3,900 feet.

Picture-Style Window Gives House Charm

All Five Rooms and Bath Placed on One Floor

A picture-style bay window, set-backs and a roof projection over the front entrance make "The Dighton" a distinctively attractive small home that would command attention in any residential community.

This all-one-floor house, designed by the Home of the Week Plan Service, contains five rooms and bath, a full cellar, and a breezeway between house and garage that could be utilized as a laundry or utility room. The main house measures 38x25 feet, the garage wing 20x15 feet. With an overall length of only 53 feet, the house could be built on a lot with a 60-foot frontage. The cubic content of the main house is 17,700 feet; of the garage, 3,900 feet.

Outside Walls of Clapboard

In the example pictured, "The Dighton" was built with white painted clapboard outside walls and a roof of green asphalt shingles. This color combination could be varied to suit individual tastes. Similarly, shingles could be used instead of clapboards, or brick or stone could be used for the front of the house and it would gain beauty from the combination of materials.

Entering the front door, a guest finds himself in a small hall with an archway at the right opening to the living room. Doors directly ahead open on two closets; another door at the left closes off the front bedroom.

The living room measures 18-12 feet and is brightly lighted by the wide bay on the front of the house and two small windows looking out toward the garage. A fireplace is centered in the long inside wall of the room. An arch at the left of the fireplace connects the living room with the dining room.

Built-in China Cabinets

The dining room has a charming outside wall arrangement—a wide picture window flanked by two smaller casement windows which can be opened for ventilation. Corners at either side of this window arrangement are filled by built-in china cabinets. The smaller inside walls of the 10-1/2x9-1/2-foot room have facing doors which open on a rear hall area and on the kitchen.

The rear hall, L-shaped, connects with the two bedrooms and passes the bathroom and the stairs to the cellar. A storage closet and a linen closet open from this hallway.

The bedrooms measure 13-1/2x11 and 11x10-1/2 feet, respectively. Each room has modern, corner windows, placed high to permit furniture arrangement under them. Each room also contains a generous sized clothes closet.

The kitchen is laid out with stove and refrigerator, side by side, against one inside wall. The service entry opens from the rear of the refrigerator, to the laundry room-breezeway. From here both front and rear yard areas can be reached or direct entrance can be made to the garage. The three other walls of the kitchen are filled with a U-shaped work counter with cabinets above and below. The sink is centered in this counter, placed under a double window looking out on the rear yard.

The full cellar could have the furnace equipment placed under the dining room or kitchen. A long recreation room might run the entire length of the house at the front, leaving space under the back bedroom for storage room use.

This low-built house offers no possibilities for attic development although storage space here could be reached by a disappearing stairway-trap installed in the ceiling of the hall, by the bathroom.

The house should be fully insulated, with louvers in the gable ends for ventilation. Complete plans and specifications for this "Home of the Week" or any other design of this series, are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, The Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Kitchen Sink Goes Modern

Since both food preparation and clean-up work after meals involve a great deal of use of the sink, it is important for the housewife to become acquainted with the numerous sizes and types; so she is sure to get the sink that will best suit her needs.

Most of the popular sinks today are made of acid-resisting enameled cast iron or hard-glazed earthenware. The largest size now available for homes is the 60-inch cabinet sink with one basin and two drainboards. Forty-two and 54-inch sizes come equipped with one basin and one drainboard, and you may specify your choice as to a drainboard at the right or left. There are a number of sinks being manufactured without any drainboards.

Can Adjust for Size

In height, most sinks measure 36 inches, which is considered correct for the average woman. However your builder can usually make adjustments for the extremely short or tall woman, although this is a complicated procedure, since all base cabinets must then be brought to sink height.

Cabinet sinks have become popular because storage space under the sink is very handy for the housewife. They are made in complete units of sink and cabinet, and now have many labor-saving attachments.

The modern cabinet sink usually includes a heated towel-drying rack, a place for soap, scouring powder, steel wool, soap chips, dish cloths, etc. A combination stopper and strainer can close the basin at the outlet and turn it into a dishwashing compartment.

Garbage Unit a 'Must'

Other popular features include a garbage-disposal unit which is considered a "must" in today's scheme of living. Most housewives feel that they would exclude any item rather than eliminate this sanitary modern method of garbage disposal.

Remember to specify a splashback sink to avoid unsightly water and soap drippings on the wall. The splashback, as its name indicates, is a portion of the sink extending above the faucets to catch excess drops of water. The hose spray is another attachment often built-in next to the faucets which easily slides in and out and makes for easy rinsing of dishes.

Questions, Answers

Bathroom Tiling

Q. The tiles on my bathroom wall have small brown lines running through them. Can anything be done to get rid of them?

A. No. If you object to this, the only thing to do is replace the tiles.

Foundation Depth

Q. In building a small house and garage, how deep should the foundations go?

A. Foundations for a house should go down below frost level to a point below which frost will not penetrate. If the garage is of frame, it is not necessary to carry the foundations so deep, as the effect of frost on these foundations will not disturb such building seriously. If the garage is of masonry, the foundations should be carried below frost level.

Loose Porch Flooring

Q. The nails used in my porch steps continually pull loose. What can be done about this?

A. It would seem that the wood was rotten. If so, it will have to be replaced. It may be that the steps are warped and this causes the nails to pull out. Try brass screws.

Storing Awnings

When awnings are taken down for the winter they should be carefully inspected and repaired. Some seams invariably need restitching. For this, only the best quality waxed thread should be used. After repairs are made, awnings should be washed with mild soap and thoroughly rinsed. Metal parts should be lightly oiled. Never fold awnings for storage. It is best to hang them on racks as free from folds as possible.

House Repairs Can Often Be Done by Owner

The seasoned home owner knows it is a luxury to call a plumber when a kitchen faucet leaks, to call a carpenter when a bureau drawer sticks, to call a plasterer when a little hole in the wall needs mending, or to call an electrician when the doorbell fails.

Proper repair of property is essential to the maintenance of value, but many of these smaller repair needs can be easily and economically met by the owner. Adjustment, repair, and renewal are three words which a veteran home owner is familiar and most have come to realize that the expense of outside help is often disproportionate to the ends obtained.

Ability Usually Limited. The range of ability of the home owner is too often definitely limited, and repairs beyond his reasonable ability should not be undertaken. Delicate adjustments of thermostats, complicated plumbing connections, or electrical mechanisms usually require the experience and knowledge of a trained repairman, and the results of an amateur are likely to be unsuccessful and expensive. The best advice is: Where there's doubt, call a competent repairman.

Common sense in appraising the repairs necessary is of prime importance, as well as a realization of how far the owner feels he will go before his patience wears thin. Painting the entire exterior of a house, repairing a sagging porch, or doing other jobs which take considerable time may be beyond the owner's patience if not his skill.

When first moving into a new home the owner is usually ignorant of the parts of the house which can be expected of them. After a few years' experience, however, his ability to appraise and repair is improved.

Trouble, usually spares the home owner for the first few years, but it is foolish not to anticipate floor finishes wearing out, wallpaper and paint peeling, outside paint peeling, and other faults brought on by weather and wear. For preservation of value and comfort in living, the owner should be prepared for action when these defections arise.

Must Comply With Ordinances

City ordinances and fire insurance regulations should be borne in mind by the amateur repairman, and those jobs which must be inspected by proper authorities after completion should usually be left to the experienced craftsman.

Cedar Closet Doors

Closets lined with red-cedar wood as they are ordinarily installed, are of doubtful value in protecting clothing from moth attack. Usually the closets are not tightly enough constructed to retain the emanations from the cedar wood in sufficient strength to kill the worms. The more odor of cedar does not keep moths from crawling or flying into a closet or from damaging the clothing or furs. In justice to red-cedar wood, it should be stated that closets very tightly constructed secretary of agriculture. Subcommittee Chairman Pace (D-Ga.) took the wraps off the new bill, but explained it may be amended before it is approved finally and turned over to the full committee for action.

One leading Republican said privately it may get bipartisan support.

Under the new measure, support levels would be boosted for such major crops as corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, whole milk and butterfat, hogs, chickens and beans. There would be slight lowering of the support standards, in comparison with present law, for wheat, peanuts, eggs and potatoes.

Based on the parity index as of March 15, support standards would be:

Wheat $1.88 a bushel under the new bill as against $1.95 under the present law; corn $1.46 and $1.42; cotton $2.709 a pound and $2.745; butterfat $6.99 a pound and $5.92; whole milk $4.22 a hundredweight and $3.55; and hogs $19 a hundredweight and $16.10.

Supports would be set at 100 per cent of the new parity-for-farm-income standard for wheat, cotton, corn, rice, tobacco, peanuts, hogs, milk, butterfat and shorn wool.

Eggs, chickens, flaxseed, soybeans, dry edible beans and potatoes would be supported at one to 100 per cent of the new parity, with rigid standards for determining the percentage of support.

Produce would run from zero to 100 per cent for other agricultural commodities, depending upon the availability of funds.

Unlike the administration plan, the bill would not require farmers to use certain good farm practices before they could receive price supports. Pace called that "regimentation."

The bill also ignores the administration plan to set a limit on price supports for each farm.

Vishinsky so far only has been prepared to pledge that use of these routes would be facilitated when trade and commerce were at stake. Previously he tossed out of the window the western demand for full use, control and responsibility of the Helmsdorf-Berlin highway.

Scores Truman's View

New York, June 18 (AP)—Henry Wallace's Progressive party describes as "unmitigated hypocrisy" President Truman's statement that his executive department is not affected by spy hysteria which the President says the country is experiencing. The party, in a statement issued after an advisory session of its national committee members yesterday, said "the poison that infects the free air of American communities from the White House itself."

Charges 'Secret Discounts'—New York, June 18 (AP)—City Investigation Commissioner John M. Murphy has accused the Dairywomen's League Cooperative Association of giving to stores "secret discounts" which he says contribute to artificially fixed higher milk prices. The charges came yesterday after a 24-hour study of the firm's books, which were submitted to the commissioner Thursday.

Reported Recovering—Chicago, June 18 (AP)—Robert E. McCall, 41, a salesman, was reported recovering in a hospital today from a bullet wound suffered when he was shot by his friend, a business executive, during a drinking bout. McCall, a former husband of Barbara Morse, socialite daughter of Col. R. H. Morse, Chicago industrialist, last night declined to sign a complaint against the executive, Carl Albert Moore, 51.

Three Are Listed—Washington, June 18 (AP)—The defense establishment, Maritime Commission and Civil Service Commission may be the first agencies whose reorganization plans President Truman will submit to Congress. High administration officials made this known yesterday as the President embarked on the yacht Williamsburg for a week-end cruise with several of his friends with whom he is expected to discuss the proposed changes.

Six Injured in Blast—New York, June 18 (AP)—Seven persons, six of them firemen, were injured today in an explosion and fire that swept a two-story garage on West 86th street. The blast occurred after an automobile caught fire and the flames spread to its gas tank. The injured were hurled to the street by the force of the explosion, then burned by flames that shot to the second story of the building.

Cooling Off Period—Washington, June 18 (AP)—A two-months cooling off period for the deadlocked Arab-Jewish peace conference has been suggested by the American representative on the Palestine Conciliation Commission, Mark Ethridge, who has just returned from Lausanne, Switzerland where the peace talks have been going on since December, said that's just his "personal feeling," and added: "It's a real stalemate now."

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Nothing can give you that run down feeling like jaywalking.

Smith—So you nearly hit a woman while driving 50 miles an hour yesterday?

Brown—Yes, my wife was in the back seat.

Children are playing on the streets now that school is out. Drive carefully so as not to hit any of them.

Joe—Is it true that Sandy Mac-Tight has bought a filling station?

Sam—I don't know for sure, but the free air sign has been taken down.

Kilroy Wasn't There
The rest rooms I wrote on.
Have never been written on.
—S. O. Barker.

First Private—Why did you salute that truck driver?
Second Rookie—Don't be so dumb. That's no truck driver. That's General Hauling. Don't you see that sign on the truck?

The Alexandria, Va., Gazette founded in 1784 claims to be the nation's oldest daily newspaper.

Woman (learning to drive)—But I don't know what to do!
Husband—Just imagine that I'm driving.

The reason they're putting wider seats in motorcars, says a writer in the Ottawa, Ont., Canada, Citizen, is to take care of the wide seats on people from riding in motor cars.

Man Motorist (after barely avoiding a collision)—Why, in the name of common sense, didn't you signal for that turn?

Woman Driver (who had just turned into her home driveway)—Why I always turn here, stupid!

Old Lady (to parachutist)—I really don't know how you can hang from that alk thing. The suspense must be terrible.

Parachutist—No, ma'am, it's when the suspense isn't there that it is terrible.

Junior was visiting his aunt. He found the cat in a sunny window purring cheerfully.

Little Junior—Oh, Auntie, come quick. The cat has gone to sleep and its engine running.

Why do people have to write "warmest regards" during the hot spells?

Most college students prefer formal dances, says a professor. Maybe they get tired of wearing their own clothes.

It's very likely to be a successful marriage when the wife is a treasure and the husband a treasury.

A sleeping person is said to move every 10 minutes. A snoring one should move once—and stay moved.

Nothing does a better job than a mirror at showing you who is to blame for most of your troubles.

Uncle: And what are you going to be when you grow up, Junior?
Junior: I'm going to be a philanthropist; those people always seem to have a lot of money.

The other day a local girl sat on an antique horseshoe chair and says she can understand why grandmother wore six or more petticoats.

Colonial Pitching Staff Set for Week-End Series Against Chiefs

Morgans Blast Wiltwycks 10-1; Take Second Place in Two League

Tomson Pitches Four-Hitter

The battle lines are being etched, clearly and sharply in the City Baseball League. The usual preliminaries having been dispensed with, the real showdown will come among three squads—Jones Dairy, Morgan's Restaurant and Chez Emile.

Morgan's vaulted into contention yesterday by crushing Wiltwyck Motors, 10 to 1, behind the four-hit pitching of Hokie Tomson for their fourth win in five starts and second success of the week. They took over undisputed possession of second place.

The Morgan powerhouse collected right hits off Fink McElrath and Lou Bessigle and had their chores, lightened by five Wiltwyck miscues. Dick Dulin bashed a pair of doubles, while Heneberry delivered a triple. Ralph Tiano and Mike Rienzo, just up from the K.H.S. varsity, also had two hits.

Four-Run Innings
A pair of four-run innings, the first and seventh, turned the game into a rout. Meanwhile, Tomson closed shop after yielding a single marker in the first on an error and strikes by Kenzie Scheffel and Dec Titus. He permitted only two safeties for the rest of the way.

Scheffel's error on Dulin opened the floodgates for Morgan's in the first. Followed quickly singles by Rienzo, Vogt and Tiano and Sicker's bubble and four runs clustered across the plate.

The Morgan seventh featured Dulin's double, Heneberry's triple, a pair of walks and Tiano's single. Mike Rienzo singled home a pair of runs in the fourth behind Dulin's first double and Tomson's stroll.

Tom Heneberry won a case of 7-Up donated by the local concern for his triple.

Chez Emile picks its fourth victory Monday evening against Frank's Sport Shop.

Girl Saves Payroll

New York, June 18 (AP)—A diminutive brunette bookkeeper fought off two husky robbers yesterday, and saved her employers' $1,485 payroll. Dolores Pollock, 20, employed by the AA Side Fastener Corp., was returning from a bank when the two men seized her on a subway car of the firm's office. She fought, kicked and yelled. The men fled.

Robinson Caught in Run-Down

Jackie Robinson (42), Brooklyn Dodgers second baseman, is caught in a run-down play between third and home in the fourth inning of the game with the Cubs at Chicago. Cubs catcher Al Walker (8), who tugged runner, goes after Robinson after exchange of throws with Andy Pafko (to left of Robinson). Shortstop Roy Smalley (right) backs up play; No. 18 is Cubs pitcher Warren Hacker. (AP Wirephoto).

Indians Coming

The upsurging Cleveland Indians whipped the New York Yankees, 10-4, at the Yankee Stadium to extend their winning streak to six games. The Tribe, definitely on the move, now is four games over the 500 mark and only five and a half games from the top.

The Boston Red Sox won both ends of an afternoon-night double-header from the Chicago White Sox, 4-3 and 10-8. Joe Dobson survived a three-run first inning to win his fifth game in the opener.

The Philadelphia Athletics moved to within half a game of the second place Detroit Tigers, defeating the St. Louis Browns, 6-5. Joe Coleman weathered two bad innings to go the route and register his sixth victory.

The scheduled night game between Detroit and the Senators in Washington was postponed due to rain.

Dr. John Zambito, Marlborough, Weds

The marriage of Miss Frances E. Ruotolo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruotolo of Newburgh, to Dr. John J. Zambito, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stefano Zambito, Reservoir Road, Marlborough, was performed Sunday at the Sacred Heart Church, Newburgh, by the Rev. Salvatore Colandro. The double ring ceremony was used. The bride wore a white satin seamed gown made with round collar and trimmed with seed pearls; a scalloped veil with crown of pearls and she carried a prayer book with an orchid. She was attended by her sister, Miss Rachel Ruotolo.

Salvatore M. Zambito of Jersey City was best man.

Galt Van Voorhis sang Panis Angelicus, and Ave Maria. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple left for a motor trip through the south and will reside in Marlborough. For traveling the bride chose a pink linen dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Zambito is employed by the New York State Department of Health. She is a graduate of Newburgh Free Academy.

Dr. Zambito practices dentistry at 98 Broadway, Newburgh. He is a graduate of Marlborough Central School and the University of Pennsylvania Dental School.

Four at Albany

Four local students will be graduated from New York State College for Teachers, Albany, Monday, Mrs. Hortense Schmierer, Miss Arline Zeilegold, daughters of Mrs. Gertrude Zeilegold, 316 Main street; Miss Arline N. Ribber, daughter of Mrs. S. J. Ribber, 80 Roosevelt avenue; and Miss Hope Shaughnessy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shaughnessy, 120 Downs street, will receive degrees.

Mrs. Schmierer, the former Miss Hortense Zeilegold, will receive her bachelor of arts degree with a major in social studies and a minor in English. While in college, Mrs. Schmierer was a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi Sorority, secretary of The Hill Club, member of the French Club and was named to the dean's list in her junior and senior years.

Miss Arline Zeilegold, will receive her bachelor of arts degree with a major in social studies and a minor in English. While in college she was a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi, Hillel and Pi Phi.

Miss Ribber will receive her master of arts degree. She was a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority on campus, inter-group council and Forum. She also acted as feature writer of the State College News and co-editor of Soap Box, the Forum newspaper. She will teach social studies in Ithaca for the coming year.

Miss Shaughnessy will receive her bachelor of arts degree with a major in mathematics and a minor in English. She has been named to the dean's list and was a member of Student Guides.

Doctor's Degree

Allan MacCollam, son of Mrs. M. H. MacCollam of 134 Westham street, received the degree of doctor of medicine from Albany Medical College, Union University, June 4. He was awarded the Daggett Trust prize for outstanding department. Prior to attending Union University to study medicine, Dr. MacCollam received a bachelor of science degree in pharmacy from the Albany College of Pharmacy. He also attended the University of Illinois. Dr. MacCollam will intern at Albany Hospital and plans to specialize in pediatrics.

Siena.
Alfred E. Smith of 11 Stanley street, son of Frank W. Smith of Beverly Hills, Calif., received his bachelor of business administration degree Wednesday at the annual commencement of Siena College, Loudenville. He majored in accounting and minored in finance.

Boolukus Mix-Up

Mistakes are so easy to make when there are two students from the same family in school. After reporting as Colgate had informed The Freeman early this week, that John Boolukus had been graduated cum laude with major in mathematics, the family notified the editorial room that the graduate was George and not John.

John will be a senior next year and will major in mathematics and although he would like very much to be graduated with honors, he doesn't think he will make the cum laude list.

George P. N. Boolukus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Boolukus, 14 Fair street, was graduated cum laude from the pre-med course at Colgate University Monday. He majored in natural science and will attend Albany Medical School next fall.

Nurse from N.Y.U.

Miss Rose Straley, R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Straley, 70 Stephan street, received her bachelor of science degree from the school of education at the 17th commencement of New York University Wednesday. Miss Straley is a graduate of Kingston High School, Kingston Hospital School of Nursing and during the war served four years in the Army Nurse Corps, most of which time was spent in Italy and the Mediterranean area. After the war she attended the University of Florence in Italy and University of Chicago. She majored in nursing education at N.Y.U. Her parents and sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis Straley, Jr., of New Palz, attended the commencement.

St. Joseph's

Miss Anne V. Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Donovan of 30 Warren street received her bachelor of arts degree with a major in English from St. Joseph's College for Women, Brooklyn, June 8. Miss Donovan will enter the field of advertising. Her parents and aunt, Miss Mae Murray attended commencement at St. Joseph's and also Fordham University.

Pharmacy College

Among the almost 200 students who were awarded diplomas at the 128th commencement exercises of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science Monday was Joseph A. Palisi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Palisi, 15 O'Neill street. He received the bachelor of science degree in bacteriology. Palisi received the bachelor of science degree in pharmacy at Albany College of Pharmacy in 1944 and served three years in the navy before attending the Philadelphia College.

Cum Laude

Miss Vivian Siegel, daughter of Samuel Siegel, 277 Albany avenue, was graduated cum laude from Cazenovia Junior College at Cazenovia Sunday afternoon. At class day, Miss Siegel was awarded the Foreign Language prize for outstanding work in Spanish. She was a member of the Literary Club, Student Council and editor of The Cazenovian, college year book.

Bread Crumbs

To make homemade fine dry bread crumbs put stale bread into a slow oven to make sure it is dry through and through; then put it through a food chopper, using the fine blade. Store in a covered container in the refrigerator. If there are young children in your family they'll enjoy taking over the once-a-week task of making the crumbs and using the food chopper. Let them have the fun of learning to put the chopper together and to take it apart as well as of working the grinder.

Average consumption of meat in America

In 1948, the average American ate 145 pounds of meat.

Area Music Students Announce Recital Auspices of Haddash

MINNA MANDEL

EVELYN TORRES

ROBERT WOLFERSTEIG

Three area students from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music will be presented in recital at Temple Emanuel, Abel street, Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. under the auspices of Kingston Chapter of Haddash. There will be no solicitation of funds as the evening is a donation on the part of the young artists to Haddash for the enjoyment of its many members and friends.

All of the students are seniors at the conservatory and have appeared in a number of musical programs.

Miss Minna Mandel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mandel, 65 West Chestnut street, is soloist with the Conservatory Symphony orchestra. She understudied the part of Santuzza in Cavalleria Rusticana and is a member of the regular quartet at Rockdale Temple, Cincinnati. She gave a junior recital and was soloist at many civic organizations in Cincinnati. She is a pupil of Laura Mae Wright of the conservatory faculty.

Miss Torres, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Hendry Torres of Lake Hill was honorary state winner of the State Federation of Music Clubs in Columbus, O. She was soloist in The Messiah given at College Hill Presbyterian Church in Cincinnati and studies with Robert Powell of the conservatory. She won the 1948 Clara Baur Memorial Scholarship offered by the Alumni Association at the conservatory and also the Genevieve Lindsay voice scholarship offered by Alpha Chapter of Delta Omicron Sorority.

Mr. Wolfersteig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig, Connelly, will give an organ recital at St. John's Episcopal Church Sunday afternoon as well as play at the recital Tuesday night. He is the pupil of Fanny Turek and is organist and choir director of the Terrace Park Church in Ohio. He will attend Deerwood Adirondack Music Center for the summer where he will be a member of the administrative staff. He will accompany, direct rehearsals and conduct concerts as well as play the organ at the Methodist Church of Saranac. This will be his sixth season at Deerwood.

Stork Shower

Mrs. Irwin J. Thomas of 148 Fair street was honored at a surprise stork shower Thursday night given by Mrs. Herbert H. Reuner at her home, 24 Hurley avenue. Decorations were in pink and blue and included a gift-filled bassinet and a blue cradle containing roses.

The guests were Mrs. F. Leslie Garrison, Mrs. Roger Kelly, Mrs. Walter Lemister, Mrs. Thomas W. Miller, Mrs. Louis Palkowicz, Mrs. Larry Shultz, Mrs. Willard E. Thomas, Miss Rosalind B. Wilber and Mrs. Francis Wojciechowski.

Officers Installed In Esopus Legion And Auxiliary Units

The annual installation of officers for the town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion and auxiliary was held at the town auditorium Tuesday.

John A. Henry, retiring commander, introduced Peter Williams, county commander and Mrs. Aaron Hasbrouck, president of the Ulster County American Legion Auxiliary, who in turn presided at the installations.

Russel J. Maurer of 84 German street, this city, was installed as commander. He is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Maurer and the late Russell P. Maurer of Connelly, and husband of the former Miss Mary Rafferty. They have a daughter, Mary Kay. Mr. Maurer entered the Army Air Forces at Fort Dix, N. J., as private November 4, 1941. He was stationed at Sheppard Field, Tex., and later at Wright Field, Dayton, O. He served in a supervisory capacity working on the control of materials program. On October 5, 1944, he was appointed chief of terminations records unit and promoted to captain. He received numerous commendations, while serving. He was separated from active service, March 27, 1946, and accepted a commission as captain in the Air Force Reserve. He is assigned to the 2232nd A.F.R.T.C., Stewart Field, Newburgh.

Maurer is a graduate of St. Peter's School, Kingston, Kingston High School, Moran Business School and is employed by Forst Packing Company as office manager. He has been with the firm since 1934.

Also installed were the commander's staff who will assist in administering the fifth year of the organization. They will form the executive committee and board of directors for the Legion corporation. Included are Walter L. Schuster, Bruce K. Davis, John Coniglio, vice commanders; Edward McBroom, finance officer; the Rev. Francis T. Newell, C.S.R., chaplain; Chester W. Barth, adjutant; Clifford Davis, Jr., historian; Basil C. Potter, Jr., sergeant-at-arms; Ferd Seamonster, and Edwin T. Doyle, executive committee.

Past Commander Chester W. Barth presented a past commander's pin to Mr. Henry as a token of appreciation of the post for his leadership this past year. Commander Maurer has called a meeting of the executive committee to be held at the post home Tuesday, June 21, 7:30 p. m. at which time plans will be made for all activities and operations of the post for the coming year.

Mrs. Aaron Hasbrouck installed the following auxiliary officers: Vivian Studd, president; Ethel Sleight and Laura LeMay, vice presidents; Margaret Whitaker, secretary; Mary P. Coniglio, treasurer; Ethel Sleight, chaplain. Miss Mary P. Coniglio on behalf of the unit presented the retiring president, Dorothy Carpenter, the past president's pin and to the installing officers and the other retiring officers, small gifts of appreciation. Mrs. Wesley O'Brien, secretary of the Ulster County American Legion Auxiliary, was a guest of the unit.

After the installation services, all accepted an invitation of the post and proceeded to the post home where refreshments were served.

All residents of the town who are eligible for membership in either the post or the unit are invited to become members. Applications and other information may be obtained by contacting Chester W. Barth, adjutant for the post and Margaret Whitaker, secretary for the unit, both at Fort Ewen.

White Sauce
In making a white sauce melt the fat in a saucepan, then remove from the heat before adding the flour. Now add cold milk gradually, with the saucepan still off the heat, stirring as you do so. After all the milk has been added continue to stir well until there are no more lumps. A whisk is excellent to use for the stirring, but if you do not have one use a wooden spoon. A half teaspoon of salt is usually plenty for two cups of the sauce.

Baking Cheese
Cheese will be hard and tough if it is cooked too long or at too high a temperature. When a dish containing cheese is baked in the oven it's a good idea to keep the temperature moderate. When a cheese combination is cooked on top of the range it should be put in a heavy saucepan and the heat kept very low, or put in a double boiler over hot, not boiling, water.

Serving Lettuce
If you want to separate the leaves of a head of lettuce, remove the core, then hold the head (core side up) under cold running water. The pressure of the water will usually force the leaves apart. The leaves should be dried on a tea towel before using.

Shoemaker-Savels
Ellenville, June 18—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Audrey Jane Savels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Mendon Savels, Jr., of Worcester, Mass., to Dr. Robert Charles Shoemaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shoemaker of Worcester, Mass. The wedding took place June 11 in Worcester.

The bride's mother is the former Christine DuBois of this village, and her grandmother is Mrs. Helen A. DuBois of Ellenville. Dr. Savels will intern in St. Luke's Hospital, Cleveland, O., where they will make their home.

Good Taste Today

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

CHARMLESS MR. N.
The following letter evidently is, quite serious. "Please express your opinion of the behavior of Miss X and say whether she is not the one at fault. Invariably when Mr. N. has a date with her, she will spend a good part of the time talking on the telephone. She contends that as long as she is home, it would be discourteous not to talk with friends who call her."

I'm afraid that Mr. N. is not very popular with Miss X, since she quite simply could cut these telephone conversations short by explaining that she can't talk now because she has company.

Mother-in-Law Names
Dear Mrs. Post: I'm in my mid-forties but always have been taken for my children's big sister. My daughter-in-law has called me Mother Jones. Now that I'm newly married she has stopped calling me that, but I noticed she doesn't call me anything. I think the poor girl is confused. What might I suggest to her? Would my first name be impossible?

Answer: If she doesn't want to call you Mother, or Mator, or else make up a nickname of her own just for you. For that matter, only the old-fashioned today would be likely to criticize the calling of a mother-in-law young as you by her first name.

Obligation of Announcement

Dear Mrs. Post: Is an announcement of a new baby likely to make the persons who receive it feel obliged to send a present?

Answer: There is no obligation whatever. If they are really interested and want to, they may, of course, send one.

Doctor's Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to sign a letter Elizabeth Jenkins, M.D., or should it be just, Elizabeth Jenkins?

Answer: On all but social letters, the M.D. should be included in her signature.

Should the tissue papers covering the engraved wedding invitation be removed before mailing?

Mrs. Post's new leaflet, E-10, gives advice about wedding announcements and forms to use. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Baking Cheese
Cheese will be hard and tough if it is cooked too long or at too high a temperature. When a dish containing cheese is baked in the oven it's a good idea to keep the temperature moderate. When a cheese combination is cooked on top of the range it should be put in a heavy saucepan and the heat kept very low, or put in a double boiler over hot, not boiling, water.

Serving Lettuce
If you want to separate the leaves of a head of lettuce, remove the core, then hold the head (core side up) under cold running water. The pressure of the water will usually force the leaves apart. The leaves should be dried on a tea towel before using.

Shoemaker-Savels
Ellenville, June 18—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Audrey Jane Savels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Mendon Savels, Jr., of Worcester, Mass., to Dr. Robert Charles Shoemaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shoemaker of Worcester, Mass. The wedding took place June 11 in Worcester.

The bride's mother is the former Christine DuBois of this village, and her grandmother is Mrs. Helen A. DuBois of Ellenville. Dr. Savels will intern in St. Luke's Hospital, Cleveland, O., where they will make their home.

White Sauce
In making a white sauce melt the fat in a saucepan, then remove from the heat before adding the flour. Now add cold milk gradually, with the saucepan still off the heat, stirring as you do so. After all the milk has been added continue to stir well until there are no more lumps. A whisk is excellent to use for the stirring, but if you do not have one use a wooden spoon. A half teaspoon of salt is usually plenty for two cups of the sauce.

Average meat consumption by Americans in 1920 was 135 pounds, about 10 pounds less than in 1948.

FASHION POINTER—Highly original, if nothing else, is the pointed hat worn by this young woman while strolling through London's Hampstead Heath. It attracted much attention, except from her escort, who apparently sees something more interesting on his left.

Saucy Straws in the Sun
Bahamian Fibers Weave High Style Summer Hats

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Fashion takes over Anglo-U.S. relations by making matches between hats of Bahamian straw and wardrobes of American cotton.

To find unusual textures and colors of natural straw, hat-designer Mary E. Goodfellow went to the Bahamas for "silver top" palmto and brown cocoanut. The results are a new "M.E.G." collection of gay color-spiced rollers, sombreros, cloches and sailors in neutral shades of straw which can go anywhere this summer that a cotton dress or a cotton suit can go.—EPIKE KINARD, NEA Fashion Editor.

Millinery stars in the collection of Bahamian straws styled for wear with American summer clothes are the hats pictured. Neutral-toned "silver top" palmto straw makes the rimmed cloche which the picnicker wears (above). The brown and white dotted band encircling the crown drapes easily over the brim. The golfer's sunshade (top right) of pale beige cocoanut straw is brightened by a boldly-striped tie silk band. Western-styled sombrero (center right) of palmto straw ties under the chin with a red cord which also rings the crown.

Interwoven light and dark cocoanut straw forms interesting pattern for roller (bottom right) which has striped cotton band around crown.

Vegetables in Stew
Don't overlook the vegetables to be added when you are making a stew; brown the meat first and cook until tender, then add the carrots, potato slices, celery, or other vegetables at the last.

Tomato Soup
Garnish chilled cream of tomato soup with a little finely cut green pepper before serving. Or sprinkle with bread cubes that have been browned and crisped in garlic olive oil.

Fresh Peaches
Fresh peaches are delicious served hot with a slice of broiled ham. Peel, pit and quarter the peaches and saute them lightly in a little butter or margarine. Sprinkle them with a little sugar while they are cooking.

Follows Old Wall
New York City's Wall street derived its name because it follows the line of the palisade wall or stockade built in 1652 across the southern end of Manhattan Island.

Communism Ruled Out

Honolulu, June 18 (AP)—Communism was ruled out officially yesterday as an issue in Hawaii's long and paralyzing waterfront strike. The fact-finding board of five, named by Gov. Ingram M. Stainback, refused to consider the Communist question. It said wages was the sole issue. Harry Bridges, striking C.I.O. International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union had insisted the board settle the matter. It accused employer spokesmen of saying Communism was behind the stevedore strike.

Beran Is Hopeful

Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 18 (AP)—A close friend of Archbishop Josef Beran said the prelate not try today to break the police net that binds him prisoner in his palace. Despite secret police guards at the entrance and telephone switchboard of the palace this friend said he has been in communication with the Roman Catholic prelate. He quoted Archbishop Beran as saying: "Now I am angry. I plead with you to tell someone in authority that things that have been written are true."

Financial . . .

Wednesday, June 29, was accepted for a "Service Club Night" and invitations will be sent to the Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary and other local organizations to join in the night.

It was also voted to stage a connection with the 4th of July doubleheader against the Poughkeepsie Chiefs at the stadium. Warren Smith recommended a 100-man "Booster Club" with memberships selling at $25 each. This plan was turned down in favor of the patron ticket idea and the "Colonial Boosters" committee which will serve as the hub for all promotional activities. Under the sharp questioning by members of the committee, President Laviano admitted that the Colonials are in terrible financial condition. He declined to reveal the exact deficit at the moment but hinted that it would require "about $5,000" to put the club on even keel.

Laviano said he felt that his brother, Julie, was doing a good job as manager and promises replacements at an early date for some positions on the club. He said he would be in contact with the Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers in the next few days seeking new pitchers and infielders.

From a promotional standpoint, Laviano reported that he has the promise of the Philadelphia Phillies for an exhibition date in Kingston in the near future. The club president also stated that he plans a "Veterans Night" in honor of Bert Shepard, Waterbury's famous amputee-pitcher-manager; and would bring to Kingston the two famous baseball comedians—Jackie Price and Max Patkin. A 12th Ward group also has tentatively scheduled a memorial night at the stadium, the date of which will be announced shortly.

After reviewing the season to date and agreeing that bad weather might have been a contributing factor in the miserable attendance, the members of the committee said they felt that the situation was not hopeless. It was suggested that more personal contact be used and each member pledged to sell as many season's pass books as possible.

Secondly, President Ted Laviano was instructed to secure topnotch replacements as quickly as possible. Several members felt that a solid winning streak by the Colonials might change public sentiment toward the club in a hurry.

sister to the ground and went after Mrs. Robinson. But she got away, pulled her 25 caliber Colt revolver from a pocket of her dungarees and fired six shots.

Two young boys witnessed the fracas, police said.

Bard, an unemployed butler-chauffeur who had a small dance band before the war, died five hours later in Memorial Hospital. One bullet was lodged in his head. Another pierced the right thigh.

Miss Hathaway broke with Bard about ten days ago, the district attorney said.

His mother, Mrs. Georgia Bard of Ikon, said Bard had been married and was the father of two children, now living in Lawrence, N. Y. He and his wife were divorced, she said.

Hiss Expected

testimony by 33 witnesses. Federal Judge Samuel Kaufman turned down defense motions to throw out the government's case, ruling that sufficient evidence has been presented to require a jury decision.

Chambers, pudgy former Time Magazine senior editor and now a Maryland farmer, was the chief prosecution witness.

His testimony pictured Hiss as feeding a steady stream of U. S. secrets to him in the late 1930's for relay to a Soviet spy agent, Col. Boris Bykov.

Under lashing cross-examination, Chambers acknowledged his past had been shady, godless and traitorous, and that he himself had committed perjury before several government bodies.

However, part of his story got backing when Henry Julian Wadleigh, another ex-State Department official, took the stand and admitted he had supplied Chambers with secret data.

Chambers had named Wadleigh, Hiss and three others as his "sources."

During Chambers' testimony, Dr. Carl Binger, a psychiatrist retained by the defense, sat in the courtroom, observing him and taking voluminous notes. The defense has not announced whether Binger will testify.

Beef stew takes on a younger look when fat little mustard dumplings come to dinner.

Beef Stew With Mustard Dumplings

(Serves 3-4)

Two tablespoons fat, 1 pound round steak cut in 1-inch cubes, flour, 1 medium onion, sliced; 3 medium carrots, sliced; 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, water to cover. Melt fat in large frying pan. Flour meat lightly and brown in frying pan. Average onions and carrots on top of meat. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and simmer slowly about 2 hours or until meat is tender. Add more water if gravy cooks down too much. Drop dumplings by spoonful on top of boiling stew, cover and simmer 12 to 15 minutes.

Mustard Dumplings

(Makes 6 to 7 dumplings)

One cup sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons shortening, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon minced parsley (dry or fresh), 1/4 teaspoon onion salt, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Add milk and parsley and stir quickly to make soft dough. Proceed as above.

Like special beefs? Then you'll certainly welcome this recipe:

Spiced Beets

(Serves 4 to 5)

Three cups diced cooked beets, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon mustard, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Melt butter. Mix remaining ingredients except beets to smooth paste and add to butter. Add beets. Heat slowly for about five minutes, stirring gently several times.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced bananas and blueberries, ready-to-eat cereal, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Fluffy omelet with Spanish sauce, fried potatoes, rye toast, butter or fortified margarine, sliced pineapple, tea, milk.

DINNER: Beef stew with mustard dumplings, steamed rice, corn on cob, lettuce and tomato salad, French dressing, blackberries, light cream, coffee, milk.

Police Patrol Streets

Paris, June 18 (AP)—An estimated 20,000 to 25,000 police, many of them steel-helmeted and carrying gas masks, patrolled Paris streets today to head off a possible riot involving Communists and rightists. Two big demonstrations are scheduled for the ninth anniversary of General Charles de Gaulle's historic appeal: "France has lost a battle, she has not lost the war."

MINE CHOICE—Northern coal operators, in a move to combat John L. Lewis' "divide and conquer" strategy, plan to name a single negotiator for the soft coal industry. Harry M. Moses, above, president of the H. C. Frick Coal Co., has been offered the job and is considering it. Northern operators' spokesman stressed the fact that the new negotiator would in no sense be a "czar."

Red Cross Swim Program Shifted to Spring Lake

The Red Cross chapter announced today that the water safety program and the swimming and life saving classes, originally scheduled for Mirror Lake, will be held at Spring Lake. Classes will start July 5 and continue through August. Classes will be held Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Parents are advised to enroll their children in the free swimming classes to insure their safety in the water this summer. Swimming classes from beginner through advanced, as well as junior and senior life saving will be conducted at Spring Lake. Red Cross certificates will be awarded upon the completion of each course. Last summer 110 certificates were issued to school children in the third grade through high school.

Application forms for the aquatic classes may be obtained at the Red Cross Chapter, 308 Clinton avenue, telephone 4038.

Two Persons Missing

Harrisonburg, Va., June 18 (AP)—Two persons were reported missing this morning after a flash flood poured a river through the heart of Bridgewater, a 1,000-population college town just southwest of this Shenandoah valley city. Waters were still raging but subsiding. A woman and her three children were reported marooned in a tree, their house having swept a mile from its foundations down through the middle of Bridgewater and past the Bridgewater college campus. Rescue was not immediately possible because of the turbulent waters.

Tries to Steal Socks, Man Gets 15 Days

A Fitchburg, Mass., man who allegedly attempted to steal 25 pair of socks from the Montgomery Ward and Company store here was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail on a petit larceny charge this morning.

Identified by police as Joseph Latay, 54, of 31 Cascade street, Fitchburg, the man was arrested on complaint of Eugene Cyr, assistant manager of the store, at 5 p. m. Friday. Cyr charged Latay with taking 23 pair of socks valued at 75 cents a pair from the store shortly before that time.

Brought before Special City Judge Francis Martocci today, Latay pleaded guilty to the charge.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

The Ruminator was talking "over the wall" with a Vermont philosopher of the old school recently. For quite a spell, the replies to questions were "Yup," "Nope" or "Hardly think so." It was like trying to get Cal Coolidge to talk. (Incidentally, we Vermonters don't take to the notion some hold that Calvin Coolidge was not a great President. To our way of thinking, any man who minded his own business and kept his tongue in his head, as President Coolidge did—and was not everlastingly trying to get the government to buy into other folks' business—was not only a great man, but a rare species in a talkative nation.)

To get back to my companion on the stone wall—I finally succeeded in getting him to open up when I inquired what he thought of the Brannon plan for paying farmers a stated income, regardless of what his crops or produce might bring him in the market.

"Jumping catfish," my neighbor exploded, nearly falling off the wall, "what in tarnation will the government think up next? I've read about this Brannon feller, and seen his pictures in the paper. Not a bad-looking man, but we'd never stomach him up here in these hills. We allus believed in working for a livin', not havin' som-un support us—not s'long as we'd swing a scythe or get milk out of a cow's tit. Seems like this country's goin' down hill. Only a few years back Henry Wallace was killin' little pigs and plowin' under cotton. Now this feller Brannon, with Truman's blessing, is all for makin' us farmers into milk-jops. And, it's jest like them Congressmen down there in Washington to pass this bill, too. I tell you, I'm dum glad I'm gettin' old so I don't have to hang around until this great America goes socialistic in earnest."

"Wa'l, so long, I've got work to do, altho' I s'pose I should jest set and let the government support me, like they's doin' for most folks my age. The feller's got back home, with the farmer's ghastly indignation still ringin' in my ears. I happened to pick up a little book which had been sent in for review. The title, in view of our stone-wall discussion, was intriguing: "The Return of Adam Smith."

Adam Smith, author of the famous basic study on free-enterprise economics, "The Wealth of Nations," was the granddaddy of the American Capitalistic sym. Certainly, if he were to return to the United States today—during Communist trials, atom-bomb investigations, heated arguments over a Fair Deal and two-world debates with Russia—he would shake his head and wonder what had become of the liberty-loving young American colonies he had admired so greatly when he published his book in 1776.

The author of Adam Smith's "Return" is an American lawyer and businessman, George Samuel Montgomery, Jr. He, too, has been worrying about how far we are going to travel down the road toward collectivism, before we try to find a way back.

The small book is an eye-opener to those who see no danger in the encroachment of socialistic tendencies on our daily lives. It is, moreover, a whacking denunciation of the extreme "liberalism" which is handed out, sugar-coated, in schools and colleges today. It is unfortunate that space will not permit an enumeration of the thesis in detail, but the author documents and supports his attack with "chapter and verse."

Whether the book had anything to do with it, I do not know, but within the last few days a Congressional committee has asked that schools and colleges submit for examination text books which are being used in social and economics courses. Also Presidents Conant of Harvard and Eisenhower of Columbia have joined in publicly supporting the demand that any and all communists and fellow-travelers be dismissed from college staffs. They advocate the teaching of Communism—objectively by non-Communists, in order that young students may compare for themselves the two forms of government: Capitalism and Communism.

I hope you will get a copy of "The Return of Adam Smith" (published by Caxton Printers, Ltd., Caldwell, Idaho—$2.50). Particularly, acquire a copy if you have young people in your household, or in your business, and are bewildered at their apparent interest in the propaganda "from the left" which is so common today.

"A gigantic ideological struggle is now raging with world-wide significance," states the author, "individualism versus collectivism; man versus the State; capitalism versus socialism. . . . His (Adam Smith's) friends regard him still as the most effective defender of freedom, the individual and orthodox economics. The socialists and collectivists . . . attempt to write Smith off as obsolescent." As the author further points out, countless students of economics today also write off Adam Smith as "old hat."

The nation is awakening to the dangers. But how many truly realize that "America is the last stronghold of capitalism in a stricken world?" To quote the author, "During the past fifteen years," he continues, "a collectivist-minded administration has flouted the basic principles of the capitalistic system and ignored the same admonitions of Adam Smith. . . . (Yet) the war called upon capitalistic America, virtually single-handed, to support by its miracles of production the struggle for victory in every quarter of the globe."

The book intelligently supports the plea for a return to the economic principles of Adam Smith—principles which have made the United States of America the greatest nation in all the world. The proposition before us is stated plainly by the author: "An economic system partly controlled by bureaucrats, and partly supported by enterprise, is unstable and will eventually become wholly controlled or return to a state of freedom."

The conclusion is clear: If we are a strong people we shall win our way back to freedom.

Only birds and mammals are provided with an internal heating system.

In 1900, the average American ate 151 pounds of meat, or six pounds more than in 1948.
